United States Trade Representative Announces Staffing Changes

The office of the United States Trade Representative is pleased to announce that Brendan Daly will join USTR as Assistant USTR for Public and Media Affairs. Tom Tripp, previously in charge of Public & Media Affairs, is leaving USTR to return to the private sector.

Mr. Daly served as the Director of Press/Public Affairs for the Peace Corps from February 1996, until accepting the position at USTR. Prior to joining the Peace Corps, Daly worked for three years as the press secretary for Congressman Gerry Studds of Massachusetts. For nine years Daly was a newspaper reporter, spending three years in Waterbury, Connecticut with the Waterbury Republican-American, and six years in Quincy, Massachusetts, with the Patriot Ledger.

Amy Stilwell, a press officer with USTR since January 1999, has been promoted to Director of Media & Public Affairs. Todd Glass, formerly Director of Communications for Senator Herb Kohl (D-WI) has joined the department as Director of Strategic Communications.
